Thank you for sharing your stunningly beautiful country with us! The rich diversity of scenery and wildlife in such a small area is difficult to imagine without experiencing it for oneself. On top of that, we have met some of the warmest, most generous people in the world.

While it is an often-used cliché, this truly was the trip of a lifetime for us, and one made so much more memorable by your insider's knowledge and camaraderie. Thank you for your attention to detail, and for creating a trip that blended our individual interests so well.

We can't wait to return to explore some more!
Please look us up if you find your way to Charleston.

With warm regards,

Kare + Rob
